

Research Contributors

This Survey benefited from the primary research of many sources on the ground including field offices of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), governments, and individuals. USCRI owes particular thanks to the nongovernmental organizations listed below and others who were obliged to remain anonymous for security reasons. We also are especially grateful to the Global IDP Project, various governments, the Population Reference Bureau, the statistical unit of UNHCR, the UN Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees, the International Rescue Committee, and the World Bank for statistics and sources we could not have gathered on our own. We remain responsible for all errors or omissions.
